Myn: Light as an Expression of Texture and Form

Myn is a new collection of wall lamps that reinterprets the simplicity of a metal ribbon, serving as a base for materials that subtly interact with light. Its minimalist design highlights the beauty of simplicity, creating a perfect balance between form and function.

Myn's lighting unfolds in two complementary ways: softly reflecting off smooth surfaces in a carefully curated color palette or filtering through vertically ribbed glass, creating a diffused effect that adds depth and volume to the composition. This fusion of elements results in a luminaire with strong character, where light not only illuminates but also becomes an expression of texture and form.

With its refined design and interplay of materials, Myn stands out as a versatile and distinctive piece, seamlessly integrating into various settings with elegance.

Myn is part of the new decorative lighting collections that B.lux will present at Salone del Mobile - Euroluce 2025. B.lux is a company based in the Basque Country, dedicated to the production of contemporary design luminaires since 1979.
