Ring C45, B.lux's New Ceiling Light in Ring Shape

Born from the collaboration between B.lux and the multidisciplinary studio Ilmio Design, the Ring collection of decorative luminaires was created. Now, B.lux presents Ring C45, a new ceiling light version.

The Ring collection merges the geometric purity of a ring with a round light source resting on its structure, evoking the delicacy and symbolism of a wedding ring. Ring C45 features a 45-centimeter ring that houses a 32-centimeter glass diffuser inside, creating an empty space that makes the luminaire appear very delicate. Its design plays with the balance between full and empty, where the light sphere, offset from the metal ring, creates a subtle crescent shape between the two elements.

Ring C45 is made of metal and blown glass. Its diffuser emits a completely uniform light, ensuring excellent light quality and high visual comfort, while creating a soft halo of light around the luminaire. Ring is available in white, black, and brass, with the option to customize it in additional colors. Moreover, its E27/E26 light source allows the user to freely choose the light tone that best suits their installation.

The Ring family is also available as a floor lamp, table lamp, wall sconce, and pendant light, with the latter being available in five different models. All of them have a smaller diameter than the ceiling light version (25 centimeters). The scalability of Ring is achieved through the modular repetition of its shapes, allowing for the creation of vertical or horizontal structures tailored to the needs of each project. Its versatile design turns the luminaire into an architectural piece capable of transforming space with rhythm and harmony.

The ceiling light version, Ring C45, is part of the new decorative lighting collections B.lux will present at Salone del Mobile - EuroLuce 2025. B.lux is a Basque company dedicated to manufacturing contemporary design luminaires since 1979.
